3 I legitimately want to get people on board with this idea.

attrition. If it turns violent, I want to be able to get noncombatants out of harm's way and get wounded to medical care. Rumor is that public transit may be shut down, and Bowser might jam up emergency services to deny us ambulances and paramedics.

If anybody has basic medical training and a decently large vehicle to transport materials and personnel, message me for details.

I've got a rally point in mind with routes and extraction/drop zones planned. This map has shifted a few things around, so my previous posts on the subject are no longer accurate.
